This is a command-line program designed to help you convert between file formats, which are supported by OpenOffice.org (.doc,.xls,.odt,.odg, etc) and PDF. Many documents (.doc,.odt) can append to a PDF and the count of pages return. OODoc2Pdf Usage: OODoc2Pdf is a simple command-line program designed to help you convert between file formats, which are supported by OpenOffice.org (.doc,.xls,.odt,.odg, etc) and PDF. Many documents (.doc,.odt) can append to a PDF and the count of pages return. Caution: OODoc2Pdf is not an official OpenOffice.org product. The conversion depends on the program, especially when it comes to saving new documents. I take no responsibility for the success or failure of the conversion. Conversion, details: OpenOffice.org with version 2.3 or newer. PDF 1.4 (or later) is required. I prefer to let the file extension in the original file as it allows me to better understand the layout of the file. A major problem: OOo will append another page to a PDF file, making the count of pages inaccurate. I have found a work-around, but I'm not sure of the safety. Please let me know if you have other ways to ensure a reliable count of pages. If you wish to change the PDF to another format (i.e. converting to an.odp or.odg file), that requires more work. How to convert an OpenOffice.org document to PDF: The conversion may be one of two ways: by using the default viewer, or by invoking the Converter program directly. Using the default viewer is easy (just open the file in OpenOffice.org and click the "File" menu and select "Save As PDF".) If you do decide to use the converter, you will need to be careful of two things. First, when you convert, OOo does not resave the file as a PDF. It will only copy the file. Any existing changes made to the original file will be lost. Second, be careful when specifying the destination file. In particular, the "Save as PDF" dialog box will probably be in German, and you might not realize
