Thunder Tier One is a slick, fast-paced shooter that draws the player into its gun-toting, black-ops world, where a high tempo and fast moving action keep you engaged from start to finish. Set in the 90's, sometime after the fall of the USSR, Thunder Tier One is a realistic top-down shooter where you join an elite special operations team tasked with stopping a terrorist organization. In 4-player co-op or solo with AI teammates, players must carefully select their gear and utilize all their tactical skills to complete each operation successfully.STORY DRIVEN CAMPAIGN A paramilitary-turned terrorist organization known as SBR have carried out a series of attacks on civilian targets in the Eastern European nation of Salobia. Thunder has been deployed to locate SBR leader Marko Antonov and put an end to his campaign of terror. Designed to be played in 4-player co-op, the 9-mission campaign takes you through various scenarios where teamwork and communication is key to completing each operation successfully. In solo mode, you will be joined by three AI teammates who will react intelligently to each situation they face. You can also take charge and issue them with a variety of individual and group commands to ensure they are executing your plan. How much you manage them is completely up to you.WEAPON & LOADOUT CUSTOMISATION You decide exactly what you take into each mission, and can choose from a wide variety of weapons and attachments, ammo type (and amount), armor, grenades and tools - you can even choose which camouflage pattern to have on your clothing. The same goes for your AI teammates, you have full control over what they use and carry. The gear you select will depend on your strategy for the mission. Coordinate with your teammates and go fully suppressed with IR lasers and NVGs for a stealth approach, or go in guns blazing with the heaviest armor and a backpack filled to the brim with extra ammo and frags. Just make sure you have the right tools to get the job done.REALISTIC GUNPLAY Thunder Tier One isn't your typical top-down shooter and it's not as simple as staying behind cover and clicking on heads. You need to use both your knowledge and the wealth of weapons at your disposal to be successful. Each weapon has unique attributes such as handling, rate of fire, muzzle velocity, effective range and accuracy. These characteristics, combined with the type of ammo loaded, will determine how

This is first of a few horror games in the Spider Hell series. Another two parts are planned. Story: Alien-human research team is investigating an object in the Fortunate Planet. As they approach the object they found on the planet, they received a distress call from inside. They decide to send a research mission to investigate. Unknowing of a deadly truth, they arrive at an alien research station where humans abducted are used as lab rats. Man, that sounds cool, right? An average game of survival horror might get boring after a while. So, you need to play it right. Be careful! Gameplay: Its first true horror game. No saving or limited lives. To survive, you need to play it right. Read the game manual and / or check this website in order to learn more about the game mechanics: www.spiderhell.com/rules.html. Configuration: Auto-run option can be enabled. You can hide the desktop application form the task bar. You can set a custom window size, a custom layout of the game application window, task bar, and desktop icons. System Requirements: PC: Windows OS: XP, Vista, 7 Memory: 2GB Graphics: 800*600 1.00 Sample Screenshot: Game Official Map Checklist: 1-Customize New Game Options (custom layout and window size) 2-Customize New Game Options (hide Desktop and Taskbar) 3-Run the Customized Customize New Game Options that you have 4-Start the game 5-Kill the game You receive a distress call about an Alien research station on your way to a new planet. You need to check the station and save the members inside. They are psychic scientists. Try to locate the exit and find a way out. WARNING: This is a true survival horror game. It's not about zombies but about enemies you can't really see or hear. They are waiting in every corner and deep inside a room. They are literally everywhere. Your gun is not enough and you should stop looking for a way out, because you can't escape from this hell. Main Features: -Big spiders inside. -Multiple spiders. -Gigantic spiders. -Scream-o-phrenic Scientists inside. -Multiple weapons. -A lot of traps c9d1549cdd

There are a lot of bugs in this game and they're buggy. For instance, let me give you a short list of the weirdest things I've experienced since playing Fobia and that's not even talking about bugs that are fixed or issues people have mentioned: - You can't enter the second floor of the hotel while the proprietor is asleep in his house.- Only one copy of you can wander around the hotel at a time, if you open the game in some form or fashion and walk away from it, you can't come back to the game and find your avatar still wandering around.- There is an entire floor of hotel employees (doctors, maids, waiters, etc) wandering around. Most will just stand there and stare at you. - A lot of the men in the hotel have dead wives. - Even after going to the second floor and meeting the woman who wants to join you in bed, there is no actual sex in the game. When you finally get in bed with her, it's like you actually bang her for the first time, yet you don't get the standard O.o rating for it. It has to be the weirdest sex scene I've experienced in a game. - You can't watch a video while you are in bed with a woman. If you try to click play on the "video room" in the hotel lobby, it says that the video library isn't available, you can't enter it, and when you press play on the video, it actually begins playing and the screen goes black and a message comes up saying the movie has started. - When a second man shows up in the hotel and begins pursuing you, he'll send a message to the first man and the second man will wait in the lobby for a bit. At this point, the first man will run into the lobby and start pursuing you and the second man will start stalking you too.- At the beginning of the game, your avatar stands out as a female. But once you get to a part of the game where your man encounters the woman he is supposed to spend the rest of the game with, your man will start seeming like a woman and will begin wearing dresses and such.- The woman's husband will wander into your hotel room while you are in the middle of sex with her, and enter the game. At this point, the woman won't complain about his intrusion, she will actually make out with the guy instead.- The employees in the hotel also have realistic pornographic poses with on Tap will be announced: On August 16th, Sony will be releasing a special press release (via Coldshades.com) announcing a new McDonough Colerish Movie Soundtrack. Jay has been incredible helpful to us time after time. McDonough Colerish Movie Soundtrack will be pressed on black vinyl and lined in solid color vinyl with a colored vinyl exclusive cover. It will be packaged in a large case with artwork and illustrations by McDonough Colerish Movie Soundtrack artist and movie producer Ryan McDonough. Q) I know you said that you tried to bring these guys to Sony, but they were obviously never interested in making anything other than their one fucked up project, but I have to know: how do you feel about them letting these guys just take down their bodies and talent and ... SELF-HARMING??? A) I don't blame them one bit. Seriously, these guys have been having a very hard time. The plan from the beginning was to forge ahead and produce some quality music. I'd like to credit them for following their dreams, despite other pressures beyond their control, but unfortunately, these pressures were too much for them and they ended up making one piece of music for their label. It didn't take a genius to realize that this kind of music simply wouldn't sell a lot of records, and there's no money to be made from that kind of thing. They tried their best to do a happy-happy poppy song, and make it so darn catchy people would play it, but it just didn't happen. Unfortunately, it's not that easy to write a decent song that sells a lot of records. The best songs are usually written by the more experienced songwriters. The few writer-producers that do this kind of thing, such as Steve Lillywhite (The Beatles, Pink Floyd) and Alan Parsons (Pink Floyd, The Beatles), just keep creating hits and keep writing. What these two groups need to do now is figure out what they want to do. How they're going to go about the business of composing quality music with quality songwriters. I'd imagine that they're going to be severely limited by the restrictions of the law and labor laws on the US. In the UK, they would be able to approach a background singer here and there, but in the US, since the laws are so restrictive, there's no way to approach anyone without being negatively impacted by it. Even in

This is a choose your own adventure novel, inspired by the writings of Robert Chambers, H.P. Lovecraft, and the Out of Tune podcast. Tattered Sails is a fully self-contained adventure game built in RPG Maker MV that introduces a new take on the choose your own adventure game. Unlike most choose your own adventure games that focus on presenting a story and presenting a series of choices in a 'choose this' or 'choose that' way, Tattered Sails is as much about exploration as it is about storytelling. We've set out to deliver an adventure that merges the slow-burn horror of Chambers' The King in Yellow with the brooding atmosphere of Lovecraft's Cthulhu Mythos. You are the Hunter, a lone soul who has stepped out into the traumas of the modern world. You have made it to Dry River, an uneasy place that lies just beyond the bounds of the human experience. It is said that the West is laid to waste by a secret organization known as the Descendants and that the land beyond Dry River is haunted by horrors that exist beyond the pale of human reckoning. You have been sent to Dry River to perform a searching excavation, but what lurks below the well-tended surface? Features: Characteristics: You are a Hunter and you have progressed through the Hunter's Journal training as well as unlocking three different Traits to better understand the monsters you encounter. You can choose to use a new, experimental trait called Tattered Sails. Tattered Sails isn't just about one singular resource or weapon, it's about you having access to your Heirlooms and Traits at any given time, allowing you to compose a custom approach to combat, bounty hunting, exploring, and to solving mysteries. Romantic Stowaway: There is a romantic stowaway who makes her presence known after you complete the game. Tangled Web: An investigation reveals a powerful social force is controlling people of the past, and they could well have their eyes on the family and friends of the Hunter. The Lost Epic: The out of tune podcast (link below) is a choose your own adventure book with a cast of characters that you will be familiar with if you've enjoyed their work. Tattered Sails is a slow-burn, noir-esque detective story. There are two play-throughs of Tattered Sails - one fast probably shouldn't be surprised to learn that Papa John's pizza plans to make a mammoth U.S. expansion into the cannabis market. The pizza company's stock surged almost 8% in afternoon trading after the announcement, benefiting from the company's position in the fast-growing sector. Now, what makes someone choose to order pizza rather than a greasy and savory sandwich? The pizza box can be a colorful art piece, bestowing an artistic element to its clients. And cannabidiol (CBD) cigarettes can deliver a welcome tingle of the euphoric compound. Earlier this year, the National Cannabis Industry Association, once founded as a marijuana advocacy group, rebranded. Now known as the National Cannabis Industry Association (NCIA), the trade and lobbying group has garnered the support of 80 different companies (most of them from the medicinal market), representing over 700 different businesses. Adding to their portfolio, the NCIA has now teamed up with the still aspiring food company to service the growing field in the U.S. Papa John's which has not officially entered the marijuana market, this coming spring in three U.S. markets. Gail Ganley, the President of the NCIA, explains that the collaboration with Papa John's is meant to make cannabis friendly and represent the entire industry. "They are a leader in the fast-food space, and we
