McAfee Zip Password: Contact Scomis Sunday, March 22, 2009 Weird Test When Caleb is given a test in school he struggles to understand the concept of what makes something hard or easy. His attempts to explain it to others are ineffective so he just sits and thinks the best way to solve the problem is to use his brain and his problem solving skills. Ironically this can make the difficulty of the problem appear even worse. An example of this can be seen in his recent practice for a test where he used his muscles to lift a floor tile up instead of relying on his brain to work out a better way of lifting. The result of using his muscles to move the tile was far worse than the attempt using his head.S. Vietnam News from Quang-Binh Province Mostly there is Vietnam War Peace Sign in village The villages have been neat and clean in recent times, but we have a problem with a sign erected by Americans. A lot of war veterans came to the area to visit, especially those who were also in Vietnam. It might be because the war with America is not over. Another answer might be that there is peace here. And they also have a place to meet when they want to. Many of them erected many signs in the area. Besides the one put up on the statue of the former chief of the province we can see many other signs. One of them has 2 tanks in it which is rather strange. Many of the signs are simple and attractive. On the top of the one of the signs there is a photograph of different people which are probably the veterans. And the other side of the sign is in Vietnamese language. They also put in more information on the weather conditions in Vietnam, etc. We can see that they are very nice
