Ice Mages have long been feared as skilled but deceptively powerful casters. They are formidable close-range combatants that can easily turn even the most powerful mages into weaklings while keeping themselves safe from counterattack. Many a mage has died after being frozen and shattered. But with the right gear and strategy, Ice Mages can be a force to be reckoned with. Primary: Ice Lance - Cast a lance of ice that instantly deals 12 - 15 damage. Secondary: Ice Spikes - Launch three ice spikes which deal 10 - 15 damage in a small radius and slows any enemies hit. This spell can be charged for 2s to combine the three spikes into one more powerful spike increasing its damage and speed. Utility: Permafrost - Summon a frigid ball of ice which explodes freezing the targeted area and dealing 6 - 7 slowing damage every 0.5s in a large area for 5s. Ultimate: Blizzard - Summon a freezing blizzard that surrounds the caster dealing 5 - 6 slowing damage every 0.5s for 8s. Game Modes Standard: Play as normal where maps are generated randomly and teams will fight for victory. Heroes Mode: Heroes are build up and leveled using talents and items. Replay: Record and upload replays to leaderboards and view others replays. Blood Covenant: A special game mode where rival Ice mages gain a stronger class through

Blood Possessions, an unique and powerful effect that only can be triggered by other enemies but when activated increases a team's damage and slows down all enemies hit. Blood Possession: Getting hold of one of the weakest point on any target body will grant the possessor a Blood Possession. Those who possess one become a stronger class known as the Scion (also known as The Bloodline) and they do not need to renew their blood to maintain the strength they obtained. The Scion can only be possessed by other enemies and when they do, the possessor becomes a stronger class. All the enemies that are in possession of a Scion can become a Scion as well. Features Key:

Survive the open world of Fossil Island either alone or in co-op. Build up your industrial power with new technologies and research.

Robots and civilians kill each other for your own good.

Research sends you on perilous missions to different parts of the islands.

Learn new abilities and new professions through research. Your weapon, your team and your tactics define your victory or defeat.

There are no challenges or levels, just survival

Finally we have the 'Main Menu'. As noted above the entire FOSSIL ISLAND is added above 'Main Menu' and we could go into more detail here. There's the 'Home Menu' which is the home page, but what else is there here? The 'Tokens' feature. This is a inventory of items you will use to build your living space in the world of FOSSIL ISLAND. Up top we see the 'Weapons Store' where we can assign items to our categories of weapon. The other thing we have is 'Blockades'... and here is where we would do the most of our 'building' in FOSSIL ISLAND. Adding Blockades to the world is done by placing your characters upon a specific parcel of land, to do this you would use your cursor and then click once, while holding down the mouse button... Then you will notice a new 'Pile' upon your cursor position. Once you do that you will cause your characters to be added to the top of the 'Blockades' pile. You have until any blockade drops down, automatically adding the characters within it automatically to your main players... You can however escape any blockade by pressing your ESCAPE key to get out of it. So we will create a few Blockades to set up how we want to defend our home areas, say at the top your home location, and then after we create our first one we then go down (again highlighting our characters with the cursor and one click) and place it at our second location... You can then press the the 'r' key on your keyboard and one block per second will then drop out that you can place and it is a single click to place it. We then go back to the home menu and click 'Pickup', we will click on the last Blockade we placed and it will

The Steel Samurai (known as Heike in Japan) is a 3D turn-based Tactical Strategy Game with an emphasis on realism and the weapons and equipment of that era. You will be playing as a leader, as well as numerous officers and soldiers. The game covers a timespan of 1936 to 1938 in Japan and a small part of 1942 and 1944 in Burma. The game allows you to play in both sides, Japanese and Allied. In turn-based strategy you will be focusing on planning and coordinating your units. The Japanese player will have to wage a war against the other Allied player and divide his troops and units between the many fronts of the war. Battles will be fought between, player and AI units. A varied terrain and strategy game with a large number of turns, and numerous ways of achieving your victory. Japanese Infantry has three maps, where the game can be played. Each map is configured so that it is roughly similar to the period of the time it is set in, but with a few differences. Map 1 - 1936-1938 Map 2 - 1936-1938 Map 3 - 1936-1938 Features Multiplayer Players can play in Japanese or Allied! We will make you a Japanese or Allied player, dependant of your wish! Japanese troops will use melee weapons, the Japanese player will be using rifles, machine guns, MG, AK, and melee weapons. The Japanese player can use more units, but Japanese troops are limited to a small number of MG and two melee weapons. The Japanese player is organized to fight a war against the other Allied player, on different fronts. Japanese infantry consists of: 4 different types of skirmishers: Yari, Torpedo, Smoke and Infantry In 1935 modern grenade became available. This has only a slightly effect on player's strategy, but in some cases may give a slight advantage to the players. Hi there, read the forums, I have been trying to be a good player and post pics but apparently there is a limit on what I can post (I had to delete several pictures in the past few days). I want to give a first impression, since I don't want to taint the new comers to the forum: - The game is great, the mechanics are nicely balanced, I like the ballsy personality of the AI (think of a game by Activision for you) and the military skill system fits in the game well. - The few crashes I experienced while playing the game weren't that bad (I've only noticed the few times when I lost the game because I lost my resolve in the middle of a battle and decided to quit). - The graphics are nice, but the difference between the two playable nations is hard to appreciate because of the low resolution. - One of the benefits of this game is the more simple scenario compared to other alternatives, which is nice, but also one of the drawbacks, because it reduces the choices available to the player, which makes the game lose some player attention in favor of events. - There is a shortage of mods, and this will be one of the bigger issues I have to face, but I will try to organize one (for both Windows and Mac OS X) when I have a few spare hours. - There is no scenario editor or mod editor, which is the big gripe of the community. Overall: This game is a very solid simulator with a broad variety of features and mechanics. It definitely deserves a try. While it's true that a large number of modders have moved on to greener pastures, such as Warface and DayZ, it is also true that a few modders are still active and this mod is the fruit of their labor. The mod is actively being developed and tested by a dedicated group of modders who will soon be offering a free DLC. What you see here is pretty much the state of the project at the moment, while it's still in the early alpha stage. We aim to roll out this mod to the public very soon. Check out the detailed developer's notes for a pretty good overview of the mod in the meantime: A while ago we did try to raise funds to help the team with development and marketing but unfortunately we could not raise that much so they are already dipping into personal funds to keep the development going. Hopefully that is sustainable

Keto Reviews Pandorex Keto Reviews
An evaluation of Pandorex Keto. “For many people, moderate weight gains are desirable,” said Dr. John Soares, a research scientist with Prudential, one of the organizations that conducted the study with the University of Scranton. Most Pandorex Keto reviews talk about the side effects of this supplement. We have listed those down below. Is It Safe? Well, I must say that I did use this supplement for 4 weeks and I was not worried about side effects. I just checked the patient’s welfare before and after ingestion. For me, it was safe. When you do bodybuilding, it is natural that you will lose muscle and fat sometimes. But I did not have muscular fatigue, sleep disturbances or any kind of joint pain. However, if you do have any kind of side effects or other problems, it is always good to consult your personal doctor. How To Use It? If you are bodybuilding, you can use pandorex keto as a personal favourite. If you are just looking to gain weight or lose weight, you can take it as a supplement. For bodybuilders, the key word is; “customer reviews, ratings, and research papers.” Check reviews of people that have used it If not, check how people rate it You would find the results as you require. The best part about the use of reviews and ratings is they help you decide whether to use it or not. Some reviews talk about side effects. Others, talk about the positive impact of this product on the human body. Just take away the experiences others have with you, and you might learn something that would get you buy this product without following it blindly. How Does It Work? You will find that Pandorex Ketone really works. It is not a scam. It's a clinically proven weight loss supplement that helps it work. When you take it for a period of time, you can lose massive amounts of weight. When you talk about phenomenal results, it shows the effectiveness of this supplement. You can stack this with some of the weight loss supplements. If you use these two together, you might achieve the desired goals. The ingredients One of the things that make
