Why is this happening? Is the Windows XP/7/8/10 32 or 64 bit? A: You can do an install on a mac, then run it with a windows VM using VirtualBox, or you can do an install on a windows VM and use it on a Mac. Either will work. I'd recommend using Virtualbox so you can just load up a separate copy of Windows (nothing is on your mac) and run the actual software on the VM without disturbing your Mac. The evaluation of tensor fasciae latae muscle flap for breast reconstruction: a 10-year experience. This study was designed to retrospectively evaluate the outcomes of the tensor fasciae latae (TFL) muscle as a free flap for breast reconstruction. The authors evaluated 25 consecutive breast reconstructions between 2004 and 2014 with TFL muscle transfer. The donor-site and recipient-site complications were measured, including surgical complications, donor-site morbidity, and patient satisfaction. There were 15 unilateral and 10 bilateral breast reconstructions performed. Mean follow-up period was 31 months (range, 4-120 months). The mean muscle donor-site area was 131 cm² (range, 25-250 cm²). The mean recipient site size was 334 cm² (range, 250-500 cm²). The overall flap failure rate was 4% (1/25). The most common complication was donor-site seroma (8/25), which resolved after an average of 9 weeks. No major complications occurred at the recipient site. The overall patient satisfaction was high in all patients. With appropriate surgical technique and cautious perioperative monitoring, the TFL muscle can be safely used as a free flap in breast reconstruction with successful outcomes. Therapeutic, IV.
