Need help setting up Xcode 5 and iOS 6 I'm at the very beginning of the process of setting up an Xcode project for iOS 6, and I'm running into some problems. Specifically. I can't seem to set the Base SDK to iOS 6, I have the iOS 6 Simulator selected in the 'Run' menu, and when I go into the build settings, I don't see any option for setting the Base SDK. I've tried searching around for info on this, but all the posts and wikis I can find on it talk about Xcode 4 or prior. A: It's under project.pbproj in your project root, just open the file in a text editor and change the value of Base SDK to 6.0 and that should do it. A: The way I solved this was to change the SdkVersion in the build settings for the target from 5.1 to 6.0 Q: MySQL function creating error in varchar field We have developed an MS Access app that writes its output to an SQL Server database. We're now attempting to port it to MySQL. So far so good, but I'm having a problem with one particular table, where I am trying to create a MySQL function in a varchar
