The authors studied ten patients with anaplastic glioma of childhood (AGC) for clonality and chromosomal abnormalities. Southern blot analysis of DNA extracted from paraffin sections of tissue from primary and recurrent AGC was performed with an alpha-satellite DNA probe specific for chromosome 1. When the results were studied, they found that nine of the patients had nonclonal tumors, whereas one tumor was apparently clonal. Chromosomal abnormalities were found in all but one patient. These included loss of chromosome 9q and a deletion of one of the short arms of chromosome 12. These results support the hypothesis that the intracerebral tumor in AGC is derived from a cell or cells with a specific chromosomal rearrangement.The son of Alabama Supreme Court Chief Justice Roy Moore has been arrested on child sexual abuse charges, according to court records obtained by AL.com. The deal was brokered by an Orion Wind Power team and Kayne Anderson. Orion Wind Power has built a new factory at Rindal in Norway to manufacture and deliver wind turbine blades to the global wind market. Ørsted's share of the deal will be financed with an up front payment of €75 million, which can be used to deliver further opportunities to bring new projects online across the EMR and achieve a progressive debt financing profile. This will be followed by additional capital contributions of €80 million in July 2020. Carl Schlüter, CIO of Ørsted commented: "We are proud to have the financial capability and capacity to invest in and ensure the future growth of the EMR region. As the world's first and largest offshore wind farm operator, it's imperative that we build on that momentum and bring projects to a scale that is right for the markets." He added: "In addition to the capital raised, we have also agreed an exclusive project licensing agreement for the EMR region for all of our 8 Gigawatt offshore wind farm projects - that will allow us to place the lowest cost, most reliable projects for the region." Orion Wind Power will continue to be based in Rindal and operate as a stand-alone business within Ørsted. Kristian Erland, CEO of Orion Wind Power, said: "We have created a new and exciting company that will thrive in the offshore wind market. Our new factory, manufacturing capability, RSP and team are among the best in the world, and we are delighted to 6d1f23a050
